February 21, 2025

Program: 8:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Come join us for the 2025 Municipal Law Institute Symposium, entitled "Nuts, Bolts & Power Tools: The Fundamentals and Current State of California Municipal Law."

This one-day educational event, scheduled for Feb. 21, 2025, will be in-person at the UC Berkeley School of Law. One of its main purposes is to integrate the study and practice of municipal law and introduce, encourage, and train students to work in the field.

This year, the symposium will get back to basics with an overview of legal areas particular to municipal law (the nuts and bolts), with real-world stories from experts on the ground about how that law is being interpreted and applied (the power tools). Specific panel topics will include:

- Open meetings and the Ralph M. Brown Act
- Ethics/conflicts under the Political Reform Act
- Transparency under the Public Records Act
- Constitutional law, focusing on signs and other issues
- Land use and housing

The symposium will include a lunch plenary City Attorneys Roundtable, featuring four esteemed city attorneys who will share their unique experiences representing different cities in California. The day will conclude with an informal meet & greet reception where attendees can interact with members of the Cal Cities Attorney Development and Succession Committee, as well as other symposium attendees.

The symposium is co-sponsored by the League of California Cities and the California Constitution Center at UC Berkeley School of Law. Approximately 5 hours of general MCLE credit will be available.

Additional details and registration information coming January 2025.
